

From memories to stories fee structure

My pricing is transparent and simple – I charge £25.00 an hour which is a very competitive rate for the professional services of a qualified historian. I can keep my rates low by working from my home in Malvern and working alone with a small client-base.

I have two straightforward rates detailed below. Using both a digital recorder and camcorder is a little more expensive simply because it takes more time to set up, and more time to edit the additional material.

Over and above this, I offer a number of optional 'add-ons' such as additional interview time, scanning of more photographs, the creation of a Kindle ebook for you to share with as many people as you like, or the printing of a full colour hardback book with picture dust cover.

The only unspecified costs are for expenses such as travelling to and from your home by car at 0.45p per mile if the journey is over 5 miles.

I'm not registered for VAT.
